HAYWOOD IN N.Y.; WILL BE TAKEN IN BOMB CLEANUP

Chicago Agents Go to Hold I. W. W. Chieftain.

Federal agents were dispatched from Chicago to New York yesterday to apprehend William D. "Big Bill" Haywood, I. W. W. chieftain, following the mysterious blast which spread death in the heart of the Wall street financial district. It is said Haywood is wanted in custody merely as a general precautionary measure.

Search for Haywood here revealed that he is in New York. It was recalled that his last public pronouncement was in the form of several threatening letters over his signature to workers in England, France, and Germany urging them "to deprive American capitalists of labor power, which creates their wealth," by keeping their workers in Europe, to strike on all commercial vessels from the United States to strike against serving or guiding Americans visiting Europe, and to refrain from purchasing anything made in America or shipped from America.

Hunt Tom Wilson Also.

Sergeants McDonough and Phillips of the local police bomb squad directed a search last night for Tom Wilson, secretary to Haywood. Wilson, a private in the federal building on Sept. 4, 1918, when a bomb killed five persons and injured a score, has never been explained satisfactorily. The bomb came within a few days of the conviction of ninety-three members of the I. W. W. for plotting to overthrow the government.

Search was renewed also for Chicago suspects in connection with the terrorist bomb plot in June, 1918, when attempts were made upon the lives of public law enforcement officials in eight eastern cities. Attorney General Palmer's home in Washington was wrecked that night and the bomb that was used by the explosion.

After the New York explosion local authorities prepared for prompt and effective action.

Police and secret service guards were placed in and about the Board of Trade, the Chicago Stock Exchange, and various big banking and brokerage houses along LaSalle street.

Chief Garrity directed Capt. Morgan Collins of Central police to take no chances of violence here.

No Official Report Here.

Edward J. Brennan, district superintendent of the bureau of investigation, had received no official report of the New York explosion.

"My office has not been asked to take any part in the investigation," Mr. Brennan said. "So far as I know, the cause of the explosion or its connection with any anarchist or radical movement is not known."

"We are in close touch with the 'Red' activities in Chicago," said J. P. Rooney, division superintendent of the bureau. "We are taking no chances."

Every possible precaution is being taken to protect federal officials, employees, and property."

Federal investigating agencies have been on the alert during an unusual period of quiet from radical outbreaks throughout the country in the last thirty days.

Bomb Sent Morgan in 1919.

The recent plot in Springfield to blow up a passenger train was shown to have been engineered by what is believed to be an isolated group of Russian anarchists.

Investigators here recalled that one of the thirty-three bombs mailed in New York in 1919 to members of the presidential cabinet, government, and state officials and prominent and wealthy men was meant for J. P. Morgan. Judge Landis was the only Chicagoan to whom one of these bombs was addressed. Both the Morgan and Landis bombs were intercepted by postal officials.

Private agencies have reported to their clients that there is a movement to spread terror throughout the country by means of demonstrations. The plot to blow up the Morgan building may be part of this movement, according to Allen O. Meyer of the Burns agency.

Leon Phillip, 386 Milton avenue, was arrested by Detective Sergeant McDonough and Egan of the anarchist squad. He is 34 years old and a barber. The policemen said he carried a revolver when arrested.

PHILADELPHIA ON GUARD.

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 16.—[Special.]—Within two hours of the Wall street explosion department of justice agents and the secret service men here had been wired complete details from New York and Washington, and had received orders, the nature of which they would not reveal.

The world went out about the federal building that officials were satisfied the explosion was a bomb plot, and that a speedy check-up was being made in all the leading centers of radicalism here.

Color was lent to this by the speedily gathering of federal agents and their dispersal through the city. The belief is that before the night is over there may be raids to arrest the leaders of the radical movement.

Special Guard in Detroit.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 16.—A detail of fifty special officers was placed on duty in the Detroit financial district immediately after the police department learned of the New York explosion. Commissioner Inches announced the guard would be maintained day and night indefinitely.

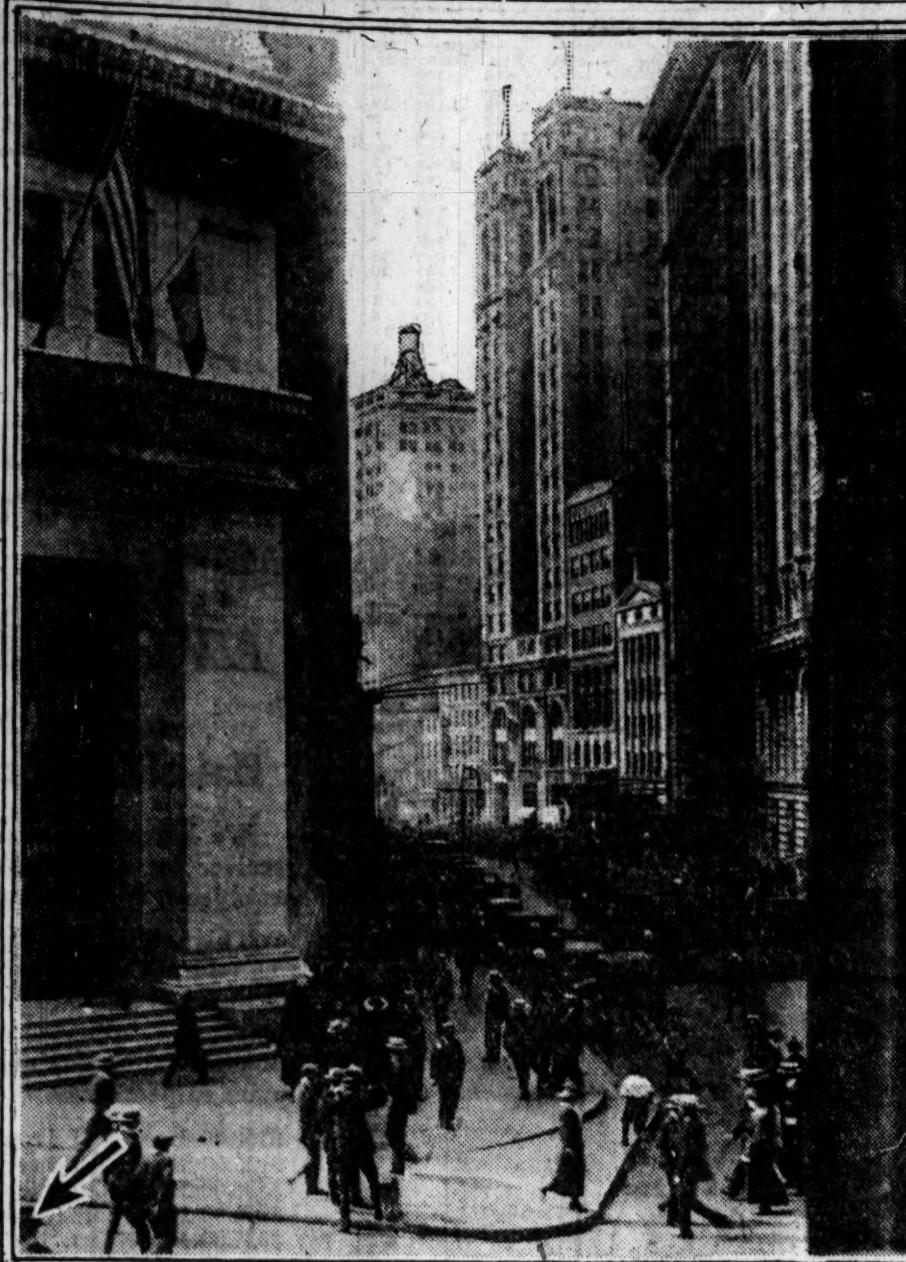

Guard Baltimore Subtreasury.

Baltimore, Md., Sept. 16.—Following the report of the explosion in New York, Marshal of Police Carter detailed policemen to guard the subtreasury and financial houses here.

Protect Pittsburgh Officials.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 16.—Shortly after news of the explosion in New York was received here, city and county officials ordered squads of detectives and plain clothes men to guard the houses of all federal officials in Pitts-

SAY POLAND IS TRYING TO GRAB UPPER SILESIA

Germans Show "Captured" Papers.

BERLIN, Sept. 15.—[By the Associated Press.]—Delayed.—The foreign office today exhibited a large number of typewritten documents in Polish, military maps and other material comprising orders and reports alleged to have been taken from a Polish courier who, it is said, attempted to swim the border stream between Beuthen and Sosnowice on the night of July 30.

The government maintains these documents are concrete evidence supporting its contention that the Poles have been attempting a violent conquest of upper Silesia.

Draft Minute Plans.

The documents are said to reveal the existence of a widely ramifying secret Polish organization, drafted on the Polish plan for action with armed forces. The maps show the plebiscite region divided into nine circuits, with seventy-four subordinated districts, each of which is expected to furnish storming troops and rifle and machine gun companies.

According to the foreign office statement, local fighting units which have been organized in the seventy-four districts indicated on the map, were expected to suffice for the purpose of striking a quick initial blow, seizing the mines and industrial plants and breaking up any German interference.

It is the expressed belief in official quarters here that the entire plan was concocted by Herr Korfanty, Polish

IRISH ENTERTAIN HOPE OF LIBERTY FOR MAC SWINEY

Sinn Fein May Find Path to British Peace.

BY JOHN STEELE.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

LONDON, Sept. 15.—Reports from Brixton prison today, the thirty-fifth of Terence MacSwiney's hunger strike, by physicians to the home office and by the Irish Self-Determination league agreed that the starving mayor of Cork passed a "very bad" night and was "extremely weak and worn out."

Despite these reports, however, friends and relatives were cheered by the constantly growing opinion that if MacSwiney's resistance can tide him over a short space more, he may be released.

See Ray of Hope.

This depends upon the success of negotiations now pending between moderate republicans in Ireland and the standing committee of the Dublin peace conference appointed three weeks ago, which is trying to arrive at some proposal for Irish self-government within the British empire.

A member of the republican government declared such a proposal has been made by Arthur Griffith, acting president of the Irish republic, and that Griffith has not returned it.

He is still considering the matter and it is possible that he may consent to take part in the congress at which leaders of the Sinn Feiners will meet other Irish moderates with this end in view.

May Alter British View.

On the British side it has already been stated that if such a proposal is made by persons who could "deliver the goods" in Ireland, the government probably will be prepared to reconsider its attitude with regard to MacSwiney and the other hunger strikers.

Mrs. MacSwiney stated tonight that her husband was much weaker. Timothy Healy, fraternal delegate of the American Federation of Labor to the trade union congress, called at Brixton prison tonight, conveying the greetings of the federation to the lord mayor of Cork.

It is reported from Ireland that Dublin castle has recommended to Downing street to release Joseph Murphy, American citizen on a hunger strike in Cork, on the ground that there is only circumstantial evidence against him.

The other hunger strikers at Cork are reported as steadily sinking with everything possible being done to ease their last days.

Plan to Smash Sinn Fein.

Sinn Fein leaders declare they have information that the government has made arrangements with the British government to force before parliament re-assembles. This is planned, they say, through the arrest of all members of Dail Eirann ("Irish parliament") on false charges if necessary.

Mr. Bonar Law, who is handling the Irish situation for Mr. Lloyd George, declared today that the government had no intention of sending Sinn Fein to jail before parliament re-assembles or that there has been any change in the general policy of restoring law and order.

WILSON FOR SELF DETERMINATION AS TO FALL LIDS

Washington, D. C., Sept. 14.—[Special.]—President Wilson died custom today, when he wore his last year's straw hat, instead of some sort of fall headgear, when he went for his daily motor trip. He is not a stickler for so-called precedent and Sept. 15, as the end of the straw hat season, means nothing to him.

Secretary Tumulty also sported a gladstone straw today, despite the fact that most folks hereabouts donned the fall.

A number of straw hats were smashed by "practical jokers" in the vicinity of the White House and the State, War, and Navy building during the day.

guarding the rooms of the election commission itself. Chief of Police Garret assigned the men after sending a letter to the election commissioners saying that he had been warned of a plot to steal the ballots.

Both camps, too, sent emissaries to Springfield to keep an eye on down-state returns and to watch the canvass.

Brundage 15,000 Ahead.

The incomplete returns indicate that for the other state offices, the candidates on the anti-Tammany ticket have won. In the hard battle between Attorney General and State Auditor Richard J. Barr of Joliet for attorney general, the scattering figures give Brundage an indicated margin of 15,000.

Fred Sterling, anti-Tiger candidate for Lieutenant governor, has an indicated margin of 35,000 over W. H. Miller.

The secretary of state, Louis L. Emmerson is indicated by the incomplete returns to have won by more than 40,000. Andrew Russell, for auditor, has an indicated margin of more than 45,000. Charles Vail, for clerk of the Supreme court, too, is running at the same pace as the rest of the ticket. As to state treasurer, it is nip and tuck between George Keys and Edward E. Miller.

Ogleby Claims Victory.

On the gubernatorial both Ogleby and Small claim a plurality. At Springfield the Ogleby managers reported they had received complete returns from fifty-four counties which gave Ogleby an actual lead of 10,000. In incomplete reports from the remaining counties, they declare, give Ogleby an indicated majority of more than 100,000 downstate.

Actual figures, the Ogleby managers said, "demonstrate that Ogleby will easily have a margin of 100,000 outside the Cook county line. Many of the remaining counties, however, which has given Ogleby a large lead, the downstate vote has more than offset the lead of the opposition in Chicago."

Small Is Confident.

At Kanakakee, Len Small issued a statement.

"I have received reports," he said, "from sixty downstate counties, twenty-five of which give Ogleby pluralities and twenty-five give me pluralities. In these sixty counties Ogleby gains less than 10,000 votes, which would only reduce my lead in Chicago by less than 40,000. I do not think Ogleby will gain over 10,000 votes in the remaining forty counties. Many of them are small Democratic counties. But even if we were to gain 1,000 to a county, which is impossible, it would still leave me a lead of 40,000 to 50,000."

Burke Running Strong.

In the one engrossing contest on the Democratic side, over the senatorship, Robert E. Burke, the only national candidate to run against Wilson at the St. Louis convention in 1912, and an out-and-out anti-league candidate, is from 2,130 precincts in Cook 39,312. Peter A. Waller has 38,482. Outside Cook, 685 precincts give Burke 9,507. Waller, 10,510.

CROWE OR IGOE? BOTH ARE YOUNG AND AMBITIOUS.

Life Stories of the State's Attorney Nominees.

BY OSCAR E. HEWITT.

Either Michael L. Igoe or Robert E. Crowe will be the next state's attorney of Cook county. The former won the Democratic nomination Wednesday and the latter the Republican.

The winner at the November election will have ample opportunity to help or hinder the progress of Chicago and win a page in the city's history. He will wield a vast influence over Chicago's conditions.

Both candidates are young men. One is 25 years of age and the other 24. Both have the energy that goes with youth. Both have had the experience of having been an assistant prosecutor. Each appears to be ambitious. Each professes a love for Chicago. Each has an abundance of hair on his head and each is a fluent talker.

The father of Michael L. Igoe was a deputy sheriff for a number of years and the father of Igoe was a telegraph operator, who was killed in the fire of the Minneapolis Tribune in 1889.

The Democratic candidate was born four years earlier in St. Paul. His widowed mother brought her three sons and two daughters to Chicago in 1895.

Here she worked to support them until they were old enough to go to work. Each son had to get out and hustle to get a bit for the family treasury. Mrs. Igoe raised them all, but the youngest, James Francis Igoe, went overseas and was buried at Brest, in France.

The candidate now resides with his mother, two brothers, and two sisters at 1434 Cornell.

He got his schooling at St. Bernard's and St. James' parochial schools. At the latter school he was a scholarship which enabled him to attend and graduate from De La Salle Institute in 1903. Then he went to Washington as a stenographer and worked in the treasury department for the period between 1905 and 1908. He attended the night school of Georgetown university. He graduated in 1908, returned to Chicago, and opened a law office.

Elected to Legislature.

For two years he was a member of the managing committee of the Chicago Bar association.

Mr. Igoe took an interest in politics and attached himself to the O'Connell-Duane faction, but owes his nomination for state's attorney to several committee men of the old Sullivan wing.

He was elected four times the Illinois legislature, 1915-17-18-19. In the last two years he was the minority leader of the house. On several occasions he showed his personal courage by measuring his ability with that of Lee O'Neill Browne.

His experience as an assistant prosecutor was gained as an assistant United States attorney for the Chicago district between 1914 and 1916. There he was the chief assistant prosecutor and gained much experience in connection with grand juries. The case of the millionaire lumberman, Rufus Edwards, accused of white slavery, and the case of Dr. A. L. Blunt, the "dope" man of Chicago, were two of the important cases which Igoe handled.

"It is time that Chicago loses its reputation as a paradise for gamblers," said Mr. Igoe yesterday. "There is no doubt in my mind that crime can be materially reduced in Cook county. No man should be indicted unless the prosecutor has a reasonable belief and a reasonable amount of evidence that he is guilty. When an offender is indicted he should be tried at once. The policy of repeated continuances must stop."

Crowe Attends Trial.

Judge Robert E. Crowe was born in Peoria Jan. 22, 1878, and came to Chicago in 1884. Here he attended the old Skinner public school and the West Division High school. Then he went to Yale University, and twenty years ago started in politics as secretary of the Yale Republican club. He was admitted to the bar in 1901.

RENOMINATION WON BY MOST OF CONGRESSMEN

Yates and Mason Picked in State at Large.

BY E. O. PHILLIPS.

William E. Mason and former Gov. Richard Yates have been renominated for congressmen at large and all of the Republican congressmen who were candidates for renomination, except Congressmen Niels Juul, were renominated Wednesday.

The Democrats nominated former Congressman William M. Baig of Ford county for congressmen at large, and all of the sitting Democrats were winners for fresh nominations except Congressman Thomas Gallagher of the west side district. Stanley H. Kunz, former alderman, defeated Mr. Gallagher.

M. A. Michaelson, former alderman and one of the city hall forces in the council, was the winner over Congressman Juul.

Desperate efforts were made by the Thompson-Lundin machine to defeat Congressman Wilson in the Englewood district and Congressman Chidlow in the Lake View district, and for many hours Wednesday night the figures were uncertain, but the result was successful. In each case, however, the figures from the country towns in the districts saved the bacon of the two congressmen.

Uncle Joe Wins by 3,000.

The fight in the Eleventh district was the closest of any of the down-state contests. Until 5 o'clock in the morning the returns were uncertain, but it was finally decided that Uncle Joe was trailing behind Frank A. McCarthy. Copley's renomination is now figured as assured by at least 1,200 majority.

Efforts made to dislodge Uncle Joe from the Danville district failed. Dr. E. C. Copley, who had the constitutional convention from Danville, has been defeated by Uncle Joe by more than 3,000 votes. In the East St. Louis district Congressman Rodenberg is renominated by 2,000 or more over John J. Brenholz Jr.

For Ahead of Funk.

For the seat vacated by Frank L. Smith in the Champaign district, Judge Arthur L. Fort of Mizion seems to have defeated Frank H. Funk of Bloomington. Figures from fifty-four of 186 precincts gave Funk 1,859 and Fort 2,096. For the seat in the Champaign district made vacant by Congressman McKinley, Allen F. Moore of Monticello has been elected. Postmaster E. F. Poorman of Mattoon looks like the highman in a four-man race for the Democratic nomination in this district.

WRECKS TAXI TO TRAP 2 ROBBERS; ONE IS CAPTURED

Two men robbed a warehouse, commanded the taxicab of John Miller,

1149 South Morrist street, and said: "Drive like hell or we will kill you." He did. Crossing the Twelfth street bridge he turned north in Wells street and saw an automobile containing Lieut. Joseph Nieman and a Negro. He drove into it, wrecking his taxicab.

"I recognized Nieman's automobile," said Miller. "I figured the only way to effect a capture was to smash into it. The robbers have killed me if I had driven into other plan."

In his taxicab was stolen clothing valued at $3,000.

WOMAN IS POISON VICTIM.

Miss Violet Kadas, 26 years old, 753 West State, was taken to the county hospital yesterday suffering from bichloride of mercury poison. She refused to tell what the poison was accidental. The police are investigating.

One of the robbers escaped. The other was captured with a shotgun. He was not shot, but was fired. He confessed. He said he was John Simonsen, 1703 South Halsted street, and that his companion was Walter Kazlauke, West Thirty-fifth street.

"I recognized Nieman's automobile," said Miller. "I figured the only way to effect a capture was to smash into it. The robbers have killed me if I had driven into other plan."

In his taxicab was stolen clothing valued at $3,000.

HAAS LEADING GARNER; HOLE IN MAYOR'S SLATE

Country Towns Wallop City Hall Man.

Mayer Thompson's county slate seems to have been broken in at least one and probably more places as the result of the vote cast in the country towns of Cook county. These towns, which the mayor counted upon for their endorsement by the Thompson organization, showed an unexpected independence. They returned pluralities for all of the anti-Thompson candidates except those who ran against Hoffman and Weber themselves.

This upset in the country towns appears to have resulted in the renomination of Joseph F. Haas, county recorder. Haas rolled up more than 10,000 plurality in the country towns, this was larger than John P. Garner, the Thompson candidate, appears to have been able to obtain in the city, although the returns from 326 precincts are still missing.

On the basis of the available returns Haas is left with a plurality of 4,430. His friends are confident that Garner will be unable to overcome this in the 256 precincts still to be heard from. The city hall forces, however, on the basis of their private returns, gathered by the police, claim Garner's nomination by 9,000.

May Break Judicial Slate.

Another place in which the city hall slate may be broken is on the judges of the Municipal Court. At one time Haas showed that Judge George B. Holmes, an anti-Thompson candidate, had broken into the list of the ten nominees, crowding out either Joseph W. Schulman or James A. Scott, the Negro candidate.

The best available returns, with 336 precincts missing, however, show all the ten Thompson candidates in the first ten places. The difference of 1,000 votes between Scott and Judge Holmes, however, and the final returns may show Holmes ahead. There is also a chance that Judge Sherman E. Fry may break into the charmed circle crowding out either Schulman, Holmes, or Scott.

With the country towns complete and 336 precincts from the city still missing, Frank S. Righener had a lead of $2,958 over Edwin A. Olson, his anti-Thompson opponent. Practically the same returns showed the plurality of Judge Robert C. Crowe, Thompson candidate for state's attorney, was $5,68 over Judge David F. Matchett, the anti-Thompson choice.

Haas' Plurality 11,474.

The country towns also made a slight decrease in the lead of Michael L. Igoe, the Democratic victor for state's attorney. On the basis of the best available returns Igoe's plurality is 11,474. The tabulation of the returns in this contest by wards were of greater interest than in others, as they gave a line on the performances of some of the Democratic ward leaders who had failed to deliver. Horace Horne carried sixteen wards—the Third, delivered by William L. O'Connell; the Eighth, the Tenth and Eleventh, credited to Congressman A. J. Sahath; the Twelfth, where Ald. A. J. Cermak made good; the Fourteenth, where Patrick Nash, member of the board of review, lives; the Fifteenth, the Seventeenth,

VICTOR?
County Recorder Who, on Available Returns, Has Won Renomination and Broken the Thompson Slate.

NEW ASSEMBLY ANTI-TAMMANY AND 'BONE DRY'

City Hall Is Walloped in Legislature Battle.

The next Illinois legislature will be anti-Tammany and dry, according to all primary returns available last night.

Efforts of the city hall to dislodge a dozen retiring members in the Chicago districts went to smash, even in the face of the Thompson-Lundin landslide. The downstate districts, as far as reported, have nominated a set of senators and representatives practically solidly against any program that the city hall will propose along factional or strictly political lines. The make-up of the next general assembly, it is now indicated, will also be satisfactory to the Anti-Saloon League.

McDermott Beats Gorman.

Senator Al F. Gorman, Democratic leader of the senate, went down to defeat at the hands of Representative Frank McDermott in the stockyards district. Senator James J. Barbour was one of those whose scalp was ardently sought by the Tiger. Evanson's votes saved Senator Barbour, who apparently was defeated Wednesday night.

Six Chicago representatives failed to get renominations. These are Marcy in the Second district, Douglas in the Third, Lucius in the Eleventh, Smekal in the Seventeenth, Fieldstack in the Twenty-fifth, and Steven in the Thirty-first, all Republicans.

"Diamond Joe" a Winner.

County Chairman James M. Dally cleaned up in the Fourth against City Treasurer Stuckart, as did all the leaders who had revolted against the Hoyne indorsement. In the Sixth, where Hoyne and Igoe both live and John P. Gibbons, a Dunne-O'Connell man, is ward committeeman, the previous leaders, delivered to Igoe. Similar revolts against ward leaders were successful in the Twenty-sixth, Twenty-seventh, Thirtieth, and Thirty-second wards.

There was some talk yesterday of Hoyne running as an independent, but no decisive action can be taken, as Hoyne's friends refuse to concede his defeat until the official count is made.

BRITAIN AVERTS
MINERS' STRIKE
BY COMPROMISE

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service]

LONDON, Sept. 16.—The danger of a miners' strike has been averted by an agreement with the miners today to drop their demand for a cut of 14 shillings 2 pence in the price of household coal, to accept an inquiry into the question of merging the various grades of wages on a flat rate, to accept an increase into diminished output, and to accept a principle that the miners' wage would not be passed on to the consumer in a higher price. This was the result of the conference today between the miners' delegates and Sir Robert Horne, president of the board of trade. Other details were not settled and the conference continues.

LONDON, Sept. 16.—The danger of a miners' strike has been averted by an agreement with the miners today to drop their demand for a cut of 14 shillings 2 pence in the price of household coal, to accept an inquiry into the question of merging the various grades of wages on a flat rate, to accept an increase into diminished output, and to accept a principle that the miners' wage would not be passed on to the consumer in a higher price. This was the result of the conference today between the miners' delegates and Sir Robert Horne, president of the board of trade. Other details were not settled and the conference continues.

TAMMANY'S STRENGTH.

On the side of Tammany in the Wednesday battle fought a formidable ally whom we had not counted. It was that unscarred veteran of many a battle lost to good citizenship, General Apathy.

The large registration had heartened the anti-Tammany forces, but it seems the registrants are looking to November and were indifferent to the local warfare. More than half of them stayed at home. This was as unexpected as it was discreditable to our civic spirit and intelligence. But we think it is unnatural.

The truth is we are in a moral slump. The war keyed up the men and women who might have been relied upon to defeat Tammany and they gave themselves to the great effort with all their energy for many months. With the end of the war came reaction and that is still over us. This accounts for the failure of the soldier element to score against political elements which, left safe at home, betrayed the soldier in the field. It accounts for the failure to take a fighting part, and even to vote, of thousands of people who worked loyally throughout the war.

And while this element of our citizenship, patriotic, high minded, intelligent, is weary, like troops out of the trenches, the element which was not with the country in the war effort or which was exploiting as much as it dared the anti-war feeling, the element which though externally suppressed was playing its own game and bidding its time—this element, unexhausted and eager for power and reprisal, has all the fighting edge the men and women who helped fight the war have lost.

Tammany had therefore this powerful ally, an ally which meant perhaps a hundred thousand votes, in addition to the hundreds of thousands which should have been cast against all that Tammany stands for of un-American spirit and predatory politics.

But this slump in citizen morale is not the whole explanation of Tammany's successes nor even of the stay-at-home vote. Tammany has perfected an organization which is as superior to that of its opponents as the Ford motor factory is to an old fashioned foundry. It is perhaps the most efficient machine of its kind in our political history. Tammany has shown a gift of organization comparable to that of a great industrial manager or of the makers of a war engine like the German army. It has, of course, just now the great advantage of a command of the army of job holders which represents a core of faithful retainers and their relatives and friends; perhaps a hundred thousand or more voters. It has the advantage of the thousands who rely upon police or political favor, the breakers of the law who must be protected and protectors of political favor of many varieties. Tammany also has developed as never before in our memory the device of political terrorism which has helped liberally to fill its war chest.

Tammany was organized for war, but it was more than organized. Its strategy, generalship, leadership were as superior to its opponents as its organization. It had the aggressive leaders, the leaders with noticeable personalities, and it had issues broader for the occasion. It pretended to be the defender of the people against the corporations. Some of the gulf of this sort of demagogery has been let off, but it goes pretty well still, and the men who are directing the strategy of Tammany are masters of unscrupulous demagogery.

Tammany, in fact, represents unscrupulous ability in very high degree. It cannot be overthrown by lax or impromptu organization. Its opponents must meet brains with brains, work with work. Instead of putting forth candidates whose character, personality or record would arouse the indifferent voter, they give us a ticket that could make little appeal to the general public. The anti-Tammany campaign became therefore a negative campaign. It had no inspiration except the opposition to Tammany. When Tammany goes down, as down it will go in due time, it will be before a fighting leadership, backed by a united organization that has organized victory by long and hard preparation.

The inherent rottenness of Tammany will bring its ruin. But it must be fought not by half-hearted mediocrities, but by an aggressive leadership which will inspire good citizenship to rally to the fight.

JAPAN DEMANDS ITS "RIGHTS."
Japan, through Ambassador Shidzara, has made formal request upon the United States government for negotiation of a new treaty or other understanding safeguarding Japanese property holding in this country and more clearly defining Japanese immigration regulations. Recently Japanese statesmen and the Japanese press have been emphatically asserting their "rights" in this country. What Japan really wants is that the United States government should tell California that it must not pass the proposed law to bar Japanese or their children from owning land in that state.

The issue is becoming clearly defined. The sentiment in California has crystallized so strongly against the Japanese that passage of the law seems certain. Sixteen per cent of the farm and orchard land in that state is now said to be under the control of orientals. They are encroaching in Utah and Idaho. As their numbers, wealth, and power increase the opposition to them becomes more acute.

The Pacific coast is not alone in its protest and its effort toward self-protection. The convention of Veterans of Foreign Wars in Washington, D. C., Wednesday unanimously adopted a resolution advocating exclusion of Japanese and a constitutional amendment withholding American citizenship from American born Japanese and other "unassimilable races."

It is a matter of national importance which should be set right before it gets beyond control. One way to set it right is to state our national policy clearly and unmistakably, and to have that policy one which will protect American interests and American citizens from the lower standards of living brought in by orientals.

Senator Harding has made his position clear. He favors exclusion of Japanese on the ground of "racial difference" which makes their assimilation impossible. Gov. Cox, on the other hand, favors letting a league of nations settle our international questions.

This point alone should make it easy for the Pacific coast in particular, and for Americans in general, to decide between Harding and Cox as controllers of our foreign policy for the next four years.

PUTTING THE NAVY IN GREAT SALT LAKE.

Candidate Cox, speaking at Ogden, Utah, reiterated the essentials of an earlier address at Helena, Mont., in which he asserted that the cost of one battleship would reclaim 2,000,000 acres of arid land, or thereabouts, and that this sum multiplied by forty-eight, the number of battleships contemplated, would reclaim some 150,000 square miles of land.

He is elected, he says, the league of nations will be ratified, money need no longer be spent on battleships, and government funds will be spent upon such purposes as reclamation of Utah deserts. The fact that we have had reports of this appeal only from Utah and Montana, where there is great interest in reclamation projects, is interesting only as corroborative evidence that the Democratic candidate bid for votes is a class appeal, directed to the interests of whatever class he approaches, rather than a national appeal on national issues.

Will Candidate Cox tell the voters of California that he is in favor of stopping the building program of our navy? We feel quite certain he will not. Will he tell the voters of New York that he will take navy building funds designed for the protection of the Atlantic coast and use them to irrigate farms in Utah? He will not. Will he tell the nation that he will destroy our first line of defense, and leave the protection of our national interests to an international league?

That is what his Montana and Utah declarations amount to. They are camouflaged by a class appeal. They are designed primarily for the voters of Montana and Utah. Mr. Cox will not voice such ideas to an audience in San Francisco or New York, but fortunately the present development of the telegraph and the newspaper is such that both coasts will know what the candidates promises to time—this element, unexhausted and eager for power and reprisal, has all the fighting edge the men and women who helped fight the war have lost.

Tammany had therefore this powerful ally, an ally which meant perhaps a hundred thousand votes, in addition to the hundreds of thousands which should have been cast against all that Tammany stands for of un-American spirit and predatory politics.

But this slump in citizen morale is not the whole explanation of Tammany's successes nor even of the stay-at-home vote. Editorial of the Day

PEEPING THROUGH THE DEBRIS.

(The Macon, Ga., News)

As we contemplate the result of the Wednesday primary, we not only have the consciousness of having conducted a clean, fair fight, but we have the consolation of knowing that we will have as good a senator and as good a governor as any one else in Georgia will have. We can contemplate the situation with serene cheerfulness.

Mr. Watson can only be interpreted in terms of his own record, and there is no need for the Macon News to summarize it here. There were many elements which entered into his success, but according to the best information we have been able to gather, the strongest single factor was opposition to the league of nations and what has been called Wilsonism as distinguished from Democracy.

The presidential primary was a sufficient warning to the man who formulates the party creed that two-thirds of the voters in Georgia were opposed to the league of nations covenant, as it was brought back from Paris by President Wilson. It was clear that for the United States to enter such a league without throwing out our membership every safeguard necessary for the preservation of the sovereignty of this government and the integrity of the constitution would be embarked upon a most perilous enterprise.

The uncompromising and even autocratic manner in which the president has sought to thrust this unqualified document down the throats of the American people aroused him a keen hostility. He seemed to forget that the senate of the United States, which the president has differed materially from him on the treaty, had a right to be regarded as loyal Democrats, as well as himself, particularly on an issue which had never become an article of the party creed.

All this was plainly to be seen in the presidential primary.

STINGLESS RED REGIME LOOMS FOR ITALY LABOR

New Compromise Program Omits Lenin Tyranny.

BULLETIN.

TURIN, Sept. 16.—Premier Gianni has decided to attempt the solution of the metal workers' complication by appointing a commission of manufacturers and workers to prepare a settlement plan, it was stated today.

BY GEORGE SELDES.

Turin, Italy, Sept. 16. (Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.) (Copyright: 1920: By The Chicago Tribune.) MILAN, Sept. 16.—Tone down dictatorship of the proletariat into joint control by the proletariat, substitute communism for the word bolshevism and use the mild term factory council instead of soviet and you have a general idea of what's coming in Italy.

In other words, Italian labor, while refusing Russian bolshevism, is going to give the world a new program of industrial and economic life with dictatorship left out, terrorism left out, force left out.

Although there is a seeming deadlock among employers today, both sides admit that the old industrial system must be changed and the system must be introduced in the future as a direct result of Italian labor's unique move in occupying the workshops without violence pending the present negotiations. The big question now is how much control labor can have in operating the nation's industries.

OVERALLS AND MAHOGANY

BY JOHN BUTLER.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

[Copyright: 1920: By The Chicago Tribune.]

TURIN, Sept. 16.—John Parodi, chairman of the communist committee operating the mammoth Fiat auto works, with face and hands grimy, received me in overalls this evening in the luxurious mahogany and velvet office of the deposed president, Ognelli, and conducted me through the plant.

We cannot pay the men until communism prevails everywhere. Italy, but we have arranged to get money from Russia, where we have arranged to sell automobiles on account. We will not compromise with capital. We will not pay for this plant, which belongs to the workers and not to the employers."

Why America Is Backward.

"The reason communism is backward in America," he added, "is because of untrammelled official tyranny against the agitators, even deportation of Americans, which must eventually to communism, which must be world-wide to be successful. We must pay for food now by promises, but the tradesmen must accept our accounts or we will communize them, too."

Sig. Parodi refused to permit me to visit the blueprint room because the trade secrets are hidden there.

Commissioner Signora Anna Luigi in charge of the electrical department. She told me the women were industrious and work every minute "because not driven doglike by the iron heel of the capitalist."

However, I saw the usual crowd of girls powdering their noses and gossiping and idling.

Every department is alive with grizzled workers who scurry about the furnaces, lean tools, or sweat before the furnaces.

Sig. Parodi showed me improvised armored cars, steel plated and loopholed "for guns against communism's enemies."

The factory whistle will be a signal for all to drop their tools, seize their rifles, and repel any attack by the authorities. The guard rooms are stacked with rifles and revolvers and carry hand grenades and bombs in profusion.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 16.—A telegram from Tiflis says that a general uprising is imminent in the Caucasus against the Bolsheviks, and adds that Azerbaijan and Daghestan have requested Georgia to aid them in a struggle for independence. It is generally believed that such a Caucasus uprising coupled with Gen. Wrangel's drive and the Polish success would prevent Red reoccupation of Baku as well as cut the soviet contact with Mustapha Kemal. Daghestan is eagerly awaiting aid from Gen. Wrangel, which is promised as soon as possible. Signs of revolt are evident everywhere in the Caucasus.

REDS FLEE BAKU REGION

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 16.—(By the Associated Press.)—The anti-bolshevik revolution in the Baku region, in the Caucasus, is reported to be gaining strength. The Russians (who recently admitted the 'evacuation' of Baku) are said to be still in retreat.

SCORES COLBY NOTE

LONDON, Sept. 16.—Soviet Russia considers it necessary to establish peaceful and friendly relations with the "existing governments" of all countries, says the Daily Herald, organ of labor. In reporting the protest of George Tchitcherin, Russian bolshevik minister of foreign affairs, against the note on Russia sent to Italy by Bainbridge Colby, American secretary of state.

Hope that America will reject Secretariat's "anti-bolshevik" policy, expressed by M. Tchitcherin, says the newspaper, and a desire of normal relations between the United States and Russia may be established, "despite profound differences in their organizations" is voiced in the protest.

Denies Colby Statement.

M. Tchitcherin says Secretary Colby and others attempt to explain the present pro-revolutionary sentiment in all countries as a result of Bolshevik propaganda. He goes on to maintain that this is "calumny, unsupported by fact," adding that the soviet government has not carried on propaganda in countries where it has given a cloak not to do so.

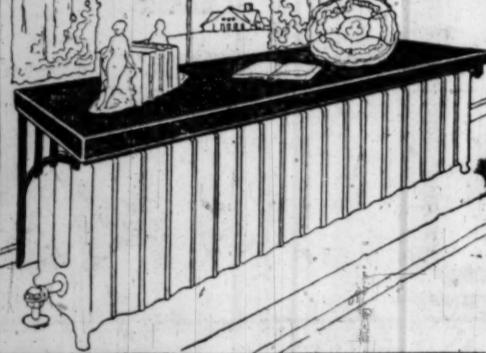

Instances where Bolshevik propaganda has been carried on, he declares, have been where "agents provocateurs" have been at work.

Recognition that the revolutionary movement of workers in every country is their own affair is accorded by M. Tchitcherin.

If you are using Steam, Vapor or Hot Water Heat, you should have your radiators equipped with "TRICO" Humidifying Shields. Not only in your home, but also in your office—in fact, where ever you eat, sleep or work; there should be "TRICO" Humidifying Shields.

Because—without them the air is too dry for health and comfort regardless of temperature—the walls become badly soiled by air currents from the radiators—the radiators themselves are unsightly obstructions.

Your physician will tell you that artificial moisture is absolutely essential wherever artificial heat is used.

You owe it to yourself and your family to equip your home with "TRICO" at once.

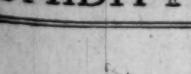

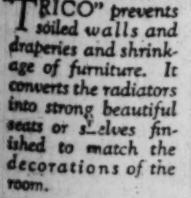

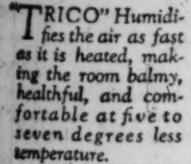

You owe it to your employees to put "TRICO" on every radiator in your office.

"TRICO" Humidifying Shields are made of heavy gauge steel with beautiful enamel finish in imitation mahogany, oak, walnut and other fine woods and materials.

The brackets are made of galvanized and the invisible water pan is galvanized to prevent rust. "TRICO" Shields will last a lifetime and are guaranteed for the life of the radiator.

"TRICO" Humidifying Shields are a vital necessity in any room—home, hotel, office or hospital—where artificial heat is used.

CHANGE SEEN IN COX ATTITUDE ON NATIONS' LEAGUE

Says He Would Agree to Reservations.

Reno, Nev., Sept. 16.—[Special]—Gov. James M. Cox undertook to break from President Wilson's unfriendly attitude on the peace treaty today and took another long stride toward acceptance of the Lodge reservations.

In a telegram to Dr. Irving Fisher of Yale university the Democratic nominee indicated that, if elected, he would accept whatever reservations are necessary to obtain ratification of the peace treaty by the Senate.

For an Early Action.

The telegram to Dr. Fisher follows: "I am determined to secure the earliest possible entrance into the league of nations. With the least possible delay and with the least possible reservations needed to accomplish that result. The platform adopted by the convention at which I was nominated permits reservations which will clarify and reassure the people and is opposed to reservations which would nullify and destroy."

"I have no doubt that Republican and Democratic senators alike will loyally fulfill the people's mandate which my election will signify. I shall endeavor to meet all reasonable desires for proper reservations which are offered in sincerity and not merely presented as trumped up for political purposes. This is the spirit of this fight and I will put forth all effort and make any reasonable concession to win it that we may secure membership in the league for America."

Would Drop Burleson.

At Lovelock the governor virtually promised the dismissal of Postmaster General Burleson if he is elected president.

When asked by a man in his audience what he would do about the post-office situation if elected president, he said:

"There are a lot of things to be done in the post-office department and they are the first things I am going to attend to after I am elected."

Crossing the alkali wastes of the great American desert today the governor was on the alert for echoes of his attack at Salt Lake City last night on those who preach the doctrine "America first."

Happy "America First."

He was discussing the league of nations before an enthusiastic audience in the Mormon tabernacle and he asked the question:

"Is there a man or woman in this audience who knows where Senator Harding stands on the league of nations?"

"America first!" shouted a man in the audience.

"What was the German slogan before the war?" Gov. Cox retorted. "The reactionaries are singing the same song the kaiser sang: 'Deutschland Über Alles!'"

Democratic Woman Will Speak Tonight on League

Mrs. Jonas Hutchinson will preside at a meeting this evening in the rooms of the Chicago Democratic Women's committee, 407 Fine Arts building, at which Miss Mary Eileen Ahern will speak on the league of nations. Men and women, Democrats and Republicans, are invited.

A "flying squadron" of speakers has been organized for street corner speaking under direction of Mrs. John Sebres and David R. Rosenheim.

STATE UTILITIES BODIES PROTEST RULING OF I. C. C.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 16.—[Special]—Contending that there is danger of the stripping of state commissions of all power over intrastate railroad rates, the National Association of Railway and Utilities Commissioners is organizing a campaign to defend their prerogatives.

A statement made public today by a special committee of the association declares that every effort will be made to prevent the interstate commerce commission from raising intrastate rates to the level of the increased interstate rate as is proposed in a number of states, including Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Michigan.

If the federal commission grants the petition of the railroads to increase intrastate rates in the manner proposed members of state commissions feel that the end of state regulation of railroads will be at hand.

CONSTITUTION IS VOICE OF NATION'S SOUL — HARDING

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

Marion, O., Sept. 16.—[Special]—Ohio will recognize Constitution day tomorrow by sending delegates from eight counties to Senator Harding's home and in special meetings which have been arranged throughout the state. The celebration of the day, the 11th anniversary of the adoption of the constitution, is under the auspices of the Republican national committee. Senator Harding today issued a statement in which he said in part:

"There is abroad in the land a spirit which seems to weaken the adherence of the people to their constitution and which recklessly challenges its worth. To recall or belittle this spirit is to invite and incur the just and passionate resentment of all country-loving men; but the constitution may be attacked or disparaged with impunity, and all too often with approval, and yet the one is but a symbol—though a very precious symbol—while the other is the very warp and woof of our national existence."

"Flat of All the People."

"A statute rests upon the delegated authority of a small official group, but the constitution is a direct flat of all the people. It is an ever standing proclamation of the right of the people to speak as the sovereign power of the nation, whose heart and soul they are, for does it not begin with the imperial 'We the people of the United States, do ordain and establish this constitution for the United States of America?'

"If by some tragic dispensation of fate this constitution should cease to be, the door would no longer be closed against the stealthy appropriation of autocratic powers, and the gradual absorption of the people's sovereignty. So long as it endures, the power will never have a master, but will rule themselves, subject to no competing force but their own authority and the will of God."

Reverence Not Enough.

"Whether it shall endure will be for the men and women of the country to determine. Respect for it, reverence for it, is not enough. They must take hold of it, meaning, penetrate to its very cleave to its principles, confront its enemies. More dangerous than open repudiation is insidious subversion."

"Our people must set themselves to the task of ending the attempt to subject the legislative power to the control of the executive and of restoring the substance of constitutional government under which the several departments are separate but co-equal, answerable not one to another, but each to the people, from whom alone it derives its power to be or act at all."

James R. Garfield, former secretary of the interior, was a guest at Senator Harding's home today.

"If the country should go Democratic this year," he said, "it would be absolutely in the grip of the old southern machine plus the Tammany of New York, New Jersey, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois."

"Gov. Cox was nominated because he was willing to be the nominee of this party. Every wet influence recognises him as the wet candidate. Gov. Cox will not have to say anything about wet and dry. He is free to talk uplift and moral reform; the wets merely wink the eye."

Senator Harding will leave Marion on the night of Sept. 26. He was announced to say he will speak in Baltimore the next evening. On Sept. 28 he will speak at Wheeling, W. Va.

The next night he will be at Ashland, Ky. This will comprise his second trip out of Marion. Three other trips are being arranged, which will take him to New York, Boston, and other eastern cities and Chicago and western points. He will not go west of Denver, it is said.

NAVY DESERTER DIES AS HE HEEDS GIRL'S PLEA TO SURRENDER

"You'll be caught sooner or later; you had better return and take your medicine." Miss Blanche Hansen, daughter of a Waukegan merchant, wrote to Roy E. McKinney, who deserted from the Great Lakes Naval Training station on Aug. 14. The boy read the letter and started back to the station.

SOLICITING OF MINERS BY UNION CHIEFSE JOINED

Charleston, W. Va., Sept. 16.—John L. Lewis and other international officers of the United Mine Workers of America, C. F. Keeney, president of district No. 17, and Harold W. Houston, counsel for the workers in West Virginia, were forbidden today by a temporary injunction, granted in the Supreme Court of Appeals, from attempting to organize miners in the southern part of West Virginia.

The injunction was granted on motion of the Algonquin Coal company, forty-eight other companies of the Pocahontas Coal Operators' association, and the Algoma Coal company, McDowell county.

ECKIE ADVISES EARLY STUDY OF NEW GRID RULES

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

With university, college, and prep school teams in all sections of the country hard at work in preparation for the opening games to be played one week from tomorrow, coaches and players should spend a good deal of time in preliminary drills in taking over rules.

The code committee at its annual meeting in New York City last winter made a few important changes which will not affect the style of play in any marked degree. The committee took special action against tactics which in the past have resulted in serious injuries. If the rules are strictly enforced this year, fewer players will be hurt and the game run off more quickly.

Most Important Changes.

The most important change is the doing away with the punt-out after touchdown. Instead of the scoring team bringing the ball directly out in the field from the point where it was declared dead back of the goal line, the oval now can be brought out directly in front of the posts. This action was taken to make a touchdown and its subsequent goal offset two field goals.

The forward passer now is given the same protection as a punter. In previous years it has been the custom of defending teams to "smear" the passer by putting him entirely out of the play after he has thrown the ball. The passer, being in no position to defend himself, was the target of planned attacks and many injuries resulted from this ungentle play. The penalty for running into the passer will be five yards and for roughing him a fifteen yard penalty will be inflicted.

Penalty for Clipping.

Clipping, which has developed into one of the most dangerous tactics in football, is to be treated the same as unnecessary roughness. This is a bad feature of the present game, as a player is knocked down when he is utterly unprepared for an attack, which generally comes from behind. Merely running into players who are out of the play calls for the penalty of a halfback birth.

Another arrival was Strohmeier, the find of the freshman team last fall. The big end, a former Shattuck Academy star, got off a train in Iowa in time for the morning drill.

Three Letter Men to Come.

George Setzer, reserve half back in 1916, was signed by the Indians in 1917 and 1918 and was unable to play last year because he was not fully recovered from a few marks the Huns left on him.

Only three letter men expected have not yet reported. Gene Rouse, 1917 halfback, is in the city, winding up his studies at the University. John Hansen, the 215 pound guard who was uninvited last fall, is expected soon from Colorado, and "Death" Halladay, end, who has been tossing wheat near Winnipeg, is on his way.

Shift Play Changes.

On shift play the players making the shift must have both feet stationery when the ball is put into play, otherwise it is ruled as in motion, which carries a five yard penalty. The moment a substitute reports to the official and the change made the substitution shall be ruled completed.

Wording in some rules has been changed to make them more clear, but from the spectators' standpoint the game is practically unchanged.

MRS. KUSHEL TOPS BIG GOLF FIELD

Mrs. F. W. Kushel of Oak Park led a large field of players yesterday at Olympia Fields in the qualifying round of a two day open tournament, but lost in the first round of match play. Mrs. Kushel had 46 in the elimination effort. Her nearest rival was Mrs. G. S. Haskell of Beverly and Mrs. Melvin Jones of Glen Oak, both of whom had 48. Mrs. Jones drew Mrs. Kushel as an opponent in match play and defeated the medalist, 4 and 2. Play today will be at eighteen holes. Summary of the eight play, with the final pairings:

First flight—Mrs. Melvin Jones, Glen Oak, defeated Mrs. W. Kushel, Oak Park, 4 and 2. Mrs. G. S. Haskell, Beverly, defeated Mrs. G. S. Haskell, Beverly, 2 up. Second flight—Mrs. Jones vs. Mrs. Pfeifer. Second flight—Mrs. G. S. Haskell, Glen Oak, defeated Miss Marie Powers, Glen Ellyn, 4 and 3. Mrs. J. Clark Baker, Olympia Fields, 4 and 3; Mrs. B. C. Calumet, 1 up. Finalists—Mrs. Gardner vs. Mrs. Jones.

Third flight—Miss Dorothy Dodge, Calumet, defeated Miss Fio Wilcox, Beverly, 1 up; Mrs. Torr, Olympia Fields, defeated Mrs. W. Kushel, Oak Park, 2 up; and Miss Powers vs. Mrs. Torr.

Fourth flight—Mrs. F. J. Hamilak, Maywood, defeated Mrs. J. Clark Baker, Olympia Fields, 4 and 3; Miss Mary Ford, Glen Ellyn, defeated Mrs. L. Stappin, Olympia Fields, 4 and 3. Finalists—Mrs. Hamilak vs. Miss Ford.

ARRIVAL OF LIKELY PROSPECTS BOLSTERS STAGG'S GRID SQUAD

At Football Camps

MINNESOTA.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Sept. 16.—[Special.]—The second day of football practice at Minnesota today found the squad of regulars increased from thirty to forty-five men. Because of unusually hot weather, Coach Williams refused to allow his men to don the moleskins, sending the candidates through a light workout in track suits. Some doubt was expressed today as to whether Jack Phillips, star halfback of last season, would return this season. Jack hurt his leg in the Indiana game last year, and the Indians have not improved to any great extent.

MICHIGAN.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Sept. 16.—Only three new men reported to Coach Yost today. They were: Perrin, veteran half; Paper, who was a member of the 1918 team; and a freshman from Fresh, and a chap named Durbin of whom little is known. The squad was drilled in running, tackling, and passing. The regular squad, consisting of State, at full; Perrin and Usher at half; Van Orden at center and Jack Duhn, half guard, with the two novices, were in the field. Most of the two workouts were given over to running up and down the field. A scrimmage is promised for next week.

INDIANA.

Bloomington, Ind., Sept. 16.—Conditioning work put the team in shape for the opening contest with Franklin this week Saturday. The Indians had the luckiest of the field demonstrating some new plays which will be used in the game. The Indians, under Coach Cottrell, were at full strength.

One of the recruits today was Charlie Matthes, a halfback from Waukesha.

Among the arrivals was Moffat Elton, who blew in from a summer in Cleveland. The Oak Park boy does not know yet whether Dean Small, the Chicago conference representative, is going to rule that he has played his full quota of time on Big Ten gridiron, but he is wasting no time until that case is decided.

Jack Phillips, star halfback of last year, will have sixty votes lined up for a Michigan return.

SONGS CALL OF SEA, ROMANCE, TO YOUNG AMERICA

This is the golden age for young men who like adventure, according to P. H. W. Ross, president of the National Marine League, who is in Chicago making arrangements for "marines week," Oct. 23-28, at the national marine exposition at the Coliseum.

"In no other trade or occupation that I know of," said Mr. Ross, "can young men attain such rapid advancement and good pay as in the American merchant marine. Our merchant marine has now won back its proud position of half a century ago, when half the commerce of the world was carried in American vessels, and our clipper ships were the peers of anything that ever sailed." Once again the call of the sea is on young men who have bled Americans who hear the call this is the beginning of another Elizabethan age. For these young men await romance, travel, adventure, the conquest of the seven seas, and the mastery of a new profession."

GRETNA ROMANCE
OF TRIPP NO. 3
LANDS IN COURT

Cafes, Drinks, Eloping,
Young Bobby's Story.

In the Tripp family the course of true love has led to Crown Point three times, but it never has run smooth. Nineteen year old Robert Tripp, who slept with 18 year old Marguerite Burnham on July 17 last, filed suit yesterday for annulment of the marriage. He is the son of Mrs. Augusta Marquis, 4821 Sheridan road, widow of Arnold Tripp, prominent Chicago attorney. Her husband, Max Marquis, is a manufacturer of silk shades at 17 North Wabash avenue. Young Tripp's bride is the daughter of James F. Burnham of 5322 Winthrop avenue.

"Cafes, Drinks, Eloping."

In Tripp's bill it is recited that "we had visited a number of cabarets. All had had a few drinks. We motored to Crown Point. I had known Miss Burnham for three years, but had never contemplated matrimony."

"When we reached Crown Point some one in the party suggested that we get married. I tried to reason a license out in the early morning hours of July 17. He wouldn't get up. I didn't wish to get married. But Miss Burnham said she was afraid of what her parents would say. Others in the party intimidated me. We were married."

False, Says Bride's Father.

"A tissue of falsehoods," said Mr. Burnham. "Young Tripp hadn't had so many drinks but he was able to drive a Cadillac car to Crown Point. My daughter and he lived at the Marquis home for a week—until one day they locked her out. I intend to fight this suit and shall have much more to say later."

Robert Tripp could not be reached by telephone last night. His attorney, L. J. Leonard, said the chief contention would be that his mother's consent had not been obtained. She was in Los Angeles when the couple eloped, he said.

Sister Also an Eloper.

Robert's sister Regis gained publicity in January, 1915, when she eloped to Crown Point with George McAvoy, an estimator in a north side cabaret. She left him a week later and obtained a divorce in June of the same year. In April, 1915, she eloped to Crown Point with Everett E. Cheshire, a Des Moines, Ia., newspaperman.

It was about that time that the widowed mother announced her engagement to Mr. Marquis. Regis therupon issued a statement to the press that: "I was married to a singer and my mother was very much annoyed. Now she is going to marry a man who sells electric light chandeliers. I don't think much of him, either."

Brother Sued for Divorce.

They resumed friendly relations in their sympathy for Arnold Tripp, Regis' brother. He was sued for divorce by Mrs. Florence K. Tripp. She alleged desertion.

QUIT HOME FOR
"NOBLE SOLDIER
HERO"—AND FLIV

"Good-bye forever," wrote 16 year old Harriet Haines. "I fly to the man I love and flee with him. You will be sorry you punished me for staying out after 9 o'clock. I could have stood even that, though, if you hadn't threatened to beat up George. He is my noble soldier hero, too."

George Haines found the note yesterday in his home at 3240 Lake Park avenue, but he couldn't find his daughter Harriet, he told the Cottage Grove avenue police.

"My wife is out of town and I'm about to go to a hospital," he said. "My daughter has been chumming with George Bauer, 17 years old, of 521 East Thirty-fourth street. Last night I found Harriet playing in the street with George and Theodore Winters, 14 years old, of 3234 Lake Park."

"Harriet always has been sort of a tomboy and wished to work on a farm. I caught her trying on a pair of overalls a few days ago. She may have run away disguised as a boy."

But at 10 o'clock last night a neighbor came rushing into the Haines home with a bulletin.

"I saw 'em just an hour ago, all three of 'em," she said. "They were riding around in a flivver."

The police took up the trail.

Four Northwestern university professors, armed with axes, will fare forth on the Evanston campus today to get some exercise, help fill their wood bins, and at the same time do a little forestry work for the school. They are going to chop down a few trees and split the wood four ways. It is part of Evanston's campaign to preserve the trees and make way for new ones by getting rid of the old dead ones. He said Mrs. King told him she would receive $1,000,000 by the new document.

Three of the abductors fled, including Dians. Tony Orlando, driver of the car, was not so quick, and the man pounced on him. The police locked him up.

THE CAST
"Square" Kelly William S. Hart
Rose Tierney A. Little
Tanner Tom Powers
Mother Gertrude Claire
Jim Kelly Francis Thawald
Lieut. Riley George Williams

By Mae Tinée.

The friends of Mr. Hart, and their name is legion, will most heartily approve of him in his latest picture. "The fact that it's not a regular" like picture makes no never mind. It's a vehicle that displays the favorite to his admirers, as his admirers like to see him.

"From Crook to Cop" might have been the title of the production, for the tale reiterates the legend of a strong man to be a brave and honest member of the force. And "the cradle of courage"—the late war—is what makes such a radical change possible. The grill of "over there," when men lived clean and fought like devils, burned its import deep in Kelly's soul. He came back and ditched the gang. And to ditch the gang to become a cop is, to Kelly, the unmerdorable sin of the underworld—one whose expiation almost surely must be one's life.

Don't you see what a great role this is for William S. Hart? Gives him every chance in the world. I'm not sure that I don't consider it the best picture he's made in years.

Ann Tierney is the girl in the cast. She's "something to live for" and she would be that sort. At least she gives you that impression in all her pictures. She's splendid.

Thomas Santschi, as her adopted father, "boss" of the gang at Tierney's, as a bad egg is a good actor.

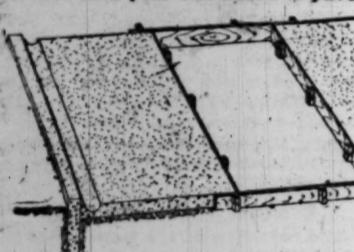

It seems funny to see Gertrude Claire, the sort of mother, in this film. She's usually one of those dear, appealing little mothers. But this time she's a bad little mother. She's eternally disgraced when her big boy decides to turn policeman. Furiously she calls him "yellow Kelly," and flying at him like an enraged little hen, drives him from home. (While the piano tenderly plays "Mother.") Funny to see her.

Well, that's about all there is to say unless to assure you that technically "The Cradle of Courage" is as good as could be expected of a company that knows its business.

FEED LOT FLOORS

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

Concrete floors are cheap. The farmer with only a litter or two of pigs for market each year can afford to pave a corner of his lot. A simple type of floor may be built at such a small cost that the saving of feed alone will pay for the floor in time. Some substitute floors of wood, but find some of the feed works through the cracks, and wooden floors furnishes a place for rats and mice to harbor. If properly made, concrete floors are easily washed off and do not absorb filth or waste. They are easily disinfected, and are permanent.

Simple type of form used in constructing concrete floors in feed lots, showing the way parts are joined together. The form is made of two by fours with stakes driven in the ground to hold them in place.

Forms made of 2x4s securely staked in place are all that is needed. A floor four inches thick is sufficient where there is little danger of freezing and heaving. Floors with flat surfaces have been common, but the best type is built with a gutter at the end and a curb applied on all sides, extending about twelve inches below the surface of the ground and three inches above the pavement.

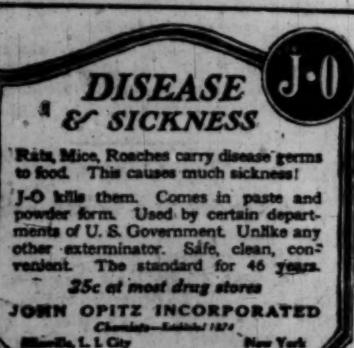

This is an excellent time for paving feed lots and building feeding floors. The mixture used for barn yard pavements and feeding floors where the surface is to be smooth, should not be made from one sack of cement, two cubic feet of sand, and three cubic feet of broken stones. And amount may be mixed in this proportion.

[Special correspondence.] — Among the fall and winter blouse models duveline is featured by some of the smartest shops. This is nowadays often combined with silk sleeves, an arrangement which eliminates the bulkiness under the coat sleeve which has always been an objection to blouses of this character.

The modes shown declines any aid from the outside, however, save the collar and sleeve bands of gray sateen, for the placket loops as well as the lacers are of self material. The color of this blouse is moss green.

Not Her Pennies.

While walking home one evening I was fumbling with the coins in my coat pocket just as I passed a hotel, outside of which several men were sitting. The jingle of falling coins caused me to turn and pick up several pennies that I supposed I had dropped. One of the men said: "Let the girl have them," which made me realize that the pennies did not belong to me, but I could only hurry off as my face was burning. I didn't care to face them again. C. M.

Not out with boys alone, Constance. But there is no reason why you should not have boy friends whom you meet at parties at your own and your friends' homes.

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Apple Paste.

For any fruit paste it is desirable to have a fruit of the same sort as the fruit for a good fruit paste, as the acid and the spiciness of flavor the better. Apples more or less rapidly lose their spicy flavor after they are harvested; therefore, now is the time to make apple conserves of every sort. Apple sauce made now and put in cans, if you can spare cans for this purpose, will not be half as expensive as apple sauce made a few months later and it will be a spicier sauce.

An apple paste or dried apple puree may be restored to sauce by soaking it in boiling water and then cooking it. The pulp left from making jelly may be used as the grape pulp can be, or the apples may be cooked for this purpose with a paring or paring, and then put through a strainer.

To each pint or pound of apple pulp add one-half pound of pulverized sugar. If the pulp or apple puree is rather wet it should be cooked down a little before the sugar is added.

It is best to cook the pulp and mixture in a thin layer in a flat bottomed pan, not stirring often. There is no need of using a cover for cooking this thin layer, to make stirring possible. It takes a long time to cook a large amount at one time and there are other difficulties. Cook in the small quantity until when the wooden spoon or paddle uses for stirring is drawn through the mass it will not readily flow together.

Pour out on a buttered plate in a half inch layer. Dry for twelve hours, sprinkle with sugar and put away. Or for a confection to eat with cheese cut in half inch pieces, roll in granulated sugar, dry thoroughly, and pack in air tight boxes.

NO POLITICS IN RESERVE POLICY, PLATT DECLARES

There is no politics in the administration of the affairs of the federal reserve board and the policies of the system are working out well, according to Vice Governor Edmund Platt, the federal reserve board, who spoke yesterday before the annual convention of the West Virginia Bankers' association. His speech was designed as a reply to critics who had charged that the board's credit restrictions and rediscounth policies were responsible for the closing or part time operation of scores of manufacturing establishments.

"There is absolutely no politics in the administration of the affairs of the board," said Mr. Platt. "If the time comes when the board yields to political pressure and fixes its policies with relation to their influence on election, then there will be danger ahead. I do not believe such a time will come."

Explains Credit Policy.

"The federal reserve act may not be good, but it is not bad. It is not good, but only such minor amendments as suggest themselves from its administration from time to time. No changes will be made in its main features for many years unless Socialists or some other radical party should gain control."

Discussing the demands for credit and dividends in which the system has handled the situation he said:

"In the face of huge and unprecedented demand for credit, the reserves have held pretty steady, with only slight declines week by week. There appears to be credit enough for all legitimate demands without encroaching on the legal reserve, but not enough for speculation, for profiteering, or for the holding of any unusual amount of harvested crops from the market."

How Surplus Helps Out.

"Some of the surplus of credit in Boston is now helping the federal reserve banks in the west and south. This surplus in New England is due to the full manufacturing business and the same is true of Cleveland and Philadelphia. There is evidence that we have entered a period of general prosperity."

"We are now almost at the peak of the demand for credit and currency caused by the movement of the crops, and it is easy to see that the situation might have been serious had there not been a general increase of reserve bank rates, beginning about a year ago."

Comment on Burton Process.

The report that the Standard Oil Company of Indiana does not carry on its balance sheet the patented Burton process which it uses, is causing considerable comment in financial circles. This is a process for the manufacture of gasoline and kerosene from the ownership of the process, which is used extensively by other Standard Oil companies, it is said, would in itself justify organization of a company with $30,000,000, which is the present outstanding issue of the Indiana company. In the last four years this company has earned $1,000,000, or $300 a share on its $30,000,000 stock. Recently the dividend has been raised from $2.00 to $2.00 annually. The company's surplus account at the close of 1918 was $106,117,353.

RAILROAD NOTES

The Illinois Southern railroad, which was declared insolvent and placed in the hands of a receiver in September, 1918, has been sold for $725,000 to the Chicago Clearing house, one of the creditors, at public auction. The sale was authorized July 18 by Judge E. C. D. Ulrich, of the circuit court, St. Louis, where the general office of the company are located. The road runs from Balmoral, Mo., with a branch from Collins, Ill., to Chester, Ill., for a total distance of 140 miles. Operations were suspended Dec. 12, 1918.

The entire official list of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad is made up of men who have come up from the ranks, according to R. E. Greer, vice president.

First reports of an analysis of American railroad freight traffic began this year by the Interstate commerce commission, show that during the first quarter of 1920 the railroads moved 8,007,435 carloads, averaging 275,831,003 tons.

The Northwest railroad has opened an office in Toronto. It also has re-established its own ticket office in Milwaukee and Sioux City, serving its connections with the consolidated ticket offices there.

YESTERDAY'S AVERAGES

New York Times, Sept. 16. — [Special] — The stock market had an abrupt end at noon following a street explosion. William, president of the stock exchange, immediately ordered business to stop. GRAIN PRICES BREAK SHARPLY; RALLY AT CLOSE

BY CHARLES S. MICHAELS.

Liquidation was on in September, corn early, and with a lack of support other deliveries dropped to a new low as the crop, as did all deliveries of oats. Extensive covering by sellers under $1.11 for December corn absorbed the offerings, and the close was on a strong rally, with September corn 10¢ lower and deferred futures 10¢ lower. Oats were 1¢ higher and 1¢ lower on December. Wheat finished 2¢ 1/4 lower, rye 1¢ 1/2 lower, and barley unchanged.

Cash horses were on the selling side of wheat, early, headed by the Armour Grain Company and J. Rosenbaum. Local traders sold freely on the weakness in coarse grains. The most effective buying was by Jackson, McKeown, Dickey, and others with seaboard connections. A liberal export business was reported as the result of the break. Milling demand for cash wheat was strong, with much grain in parts of Illinois already freed from frost. Even the government reports from various states which have been rather pessimistic showed improvement.

A local trader now in the east, who has been taking a bullish on wheat for some time, estimates on basis of the statistics position this country can expect only 210,000,000 bu. for export, after allowing 200,000,000 for carryover. He figures with the out of the market as a seller Barill will take 10,000,000 to 15,000,000 bu. from this which, with the 150,000,000 bu. estimated as exported or already sold, would leave less than 50,000,000 bu. to be disposed of.

In some quarters there is a disposition to regard part of the buying of wheat futures as people close to the British community, among others, cables decided the United Kingdom has sufficient stock on hand, afloat or bought, to last until Feb. 1, 1921.

A move is under way between the British and Canadian governments whereby arrangements can be made so the Canadian dollar and sterling both will have a higher value.

Closing of spreads between various dealers was a feature of the trade. Part of the selling of September and buying of December was credited to a leading local firm that has been talking bullish. December at one time was 3¢ under the May against 3¢ premium recently, but the undoing of spreads put the December 1¢ 1/2 above the close.
